Our students practice social skills, along with team building, as they play soccer in PE. Allowing outdoor play is crucial in the development of children.

FROM YOUR PRINCIPAL

What makes a good school great? One of the ways we choose to measure success is "are the children engaged?" As we move in to a more rigorous model of curriculum we are measuring the student outcomes and their use of technology integration alongside the objectives. Our goal is not to replace pencil and paper activities, but rather enhance the activities. Our students are capable of anything!

Third graders hiked the Children's Discovery Trail at Red Rock this week. They made classroom connections to our desert. Students were taught the "leave no trace" principles.

"One of life's most painful moments comes when we must admit that we didn't do our homework, that we are not prepared." - Merlin Olsen
